The logo of the project shows the different areas of STEM and the heterogeneity of the inclusive participants within the target group (colored dots):

Moreover, it provides a circle which shows that all belong together and that inclusiveness is an important value.

The main outputs of the project include inclusive STEM activities with digital technology content, OER, toolkit, digital tool and guide. The OER and digital tool, which will be designed according to the needs of the target groups, will be a digital tool for users and will enable them to customize STEM subjects according to different learning models in teaching.
